Coloplast Professional newsletter – 1st edition

Welcome to our first Coloplast Professional newsletter!

We are now nearly 2 years into the pandemic and we've seen huge changes in all areas of our lives. Here at Coloplast Professional we have also made changes to our education programme to ensure that we remain accessible, flexible and relevant to support you in your clinical work, wherever that may be.

In the coming months you'll see further changes including an enhanced online presence, easier access and many new resources. We're excited about the changes ahead and the new innovations that we have to share with you. Our priority remains you and your education, supporting you to provide the best care for your patients.

As part of our commitment to you, we have partnered with the Mark Allen Group to provide a range of content over the coming year. Using their expertise in healthcare publishing, we are able to strengthen our offering in high quality educational material that is relevant to your area of clinical practice. We're excited to bring you accessible content in a range of formats – webinars, eLearning, newsletters and reflective articles. All designed to meet your educational needs.

What is Coloplast Professional?

Coloplast Professional is an education and collaboration platform for healthcare professionals working in the different fields of intimate healthcare.

Whatever your level of experience, our education programme offers you a flexible set-up of online learning and hands-on tools that will take your clinical expertise to the next level:

- Clinical evidence and publications to keep you up to date on the science in your field.
- Assessment tools and hands-on resources that you can use – and share – with your patients to help them manage their condition.
- How-to videos and step-by-step guides on how you tackle common patient and clinical challenges.
- Product information to help you find the right solution for your patient.

Our resources have been developed in close collaboration with leading specialists and healthcare professionals working in the field of intimate healthcare.
